Weston's Owner Falls When the Race Seemed

NORFOLK, VA., May 18.—But for the poor form of E. O. Hayes, of Warrenton, owner and rider of Westown, there might have been a different winner of half, when Mr. Hayes lost his seat. He was picked up in an unconscious condi-tion, but not seriously hurt. Up to this point it had been one of the hardest fought steeplechases ever seen in the South. Westown had been the leader a greater portion of the way, and when Follow On joined him in the run down the back stretch the second time, the spectators shrieked encouragement. Stride for atride and head for head Westown and Follow On raced up the stretch and around the turn. The horses took the fences in their stride, and each rider was doing his utmost to gain even the slightfences in their stride, and each rider was doing his utmost to gain even the slightest advantage existed in that wild run was in favor of Wesiown, whose head barely bobbed along in front of Follow On. They ran away from the other starters as though they were anchored. Buddenly Hayes gave, signs of weakness. The crowd became alarmed. He struggled to hold his seat, but was obviously "all in" before he actually fell.

hold his seat, but was obviously "all in" before he actually fell.

The race was Follow On's. Two bad accidents occurred in the five-eighths mile dash. Flying Red Skin was forced against the rail, and his rider, Hopkins, fractured his leg before he relieved the situation. The favorite, Escobar, literally got on to Mattle G.'s heels us they turned into the last stretch, and cut a tendon in the mare's left hind ankle. Escobar was thrown with awful force, but Mattle G. finished the race on three legs, and won fourth money. Mattle G. is owned by F. L. W. Green, of Richmond. The mare is thought to make another visit to North Carolina. After many praises of North Carolina and her people, he turned to Governor Glenn, who weighs 250 pounds, while he weighs about 150. He said:

"And I have observed that you raise bigger Governors down here than we do." His whole address breathed a spirit of pride in the valor of New Jersey troops, and sacred memories of their dead, comparing them to North Carolina troops in many respects. They fought side by side at San Juan Hill, sat side by side in the Continental Congress, and as North Carolina was first at Bethel, farthest at Gettysburg and last at Appomattox, New Jersey, out of 90,000 qualified soldiers, had sent 88,000 to the front to fight the warfor the preservation of the Union.

Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, being presented by General Stewart, made a fervidly, eloquent and very able address, completely capturing the hearts of Northern and Southern troops.

The menument is a handsome one of its kind. There was not a hitch in the exercises. The day was perfect.

In the afternoon visitors were driven to all points of interest around the city, many Union veterans visiting the hattle-field near Newbern. At night the New Jersey officials and veterans entertained Newbern veterans and citizens at an elaborate banquet, and later the visiting ladies and gentlemen of New Jersey were tendered a reception at Confederate Hall by the Camp of Confederate veterans; assisted by Daughters of the Confederacy.

and maintain a publid highway simply for its benefit, without regard to the rights of the public. But it is equally true that the corporation performing such public service and the people financially interested in its business and affairs have rights that may not be javaded by legislative enactrient in disregard of its fundamental guarantees for their protection. The corporation may not be required to use its property for the benefit of the public without receiving just compensation for the services rendered by it. How such compensation may be ascertained, and what are the necessary elements in such an inquiry will always be an embarrassing question. We hold, however, that the basis of all calculation as to the reasonableness of rates to be charged by a corporation maintaining a highway under legislative sanction must be the fair value of the property being used by it for the convenience of the public. And in order to ascertain that value, the original cost of construction, the amount expended in permanent improvements, the adount as market value of order with the original cost of construction, the probable earning capacity of the property under particular rates prescribed by statute, and the sum required to meet operating expenses, are all matters for consideration and are to be given such weight as may be just and right in each case. We do not say that there may not be other matters to be regarded in estimating the value of the property. What the company is entitled to ask is a fair return upon the value of that which it employs for the public convenience. On the other hand, what the public is entitled to demand is that no more be exacted from it for the use of a public highway than the survices rendered by it are reasonably worth." Statements of president Charles B. Mellen, of the New York, Now Haven and Hartford; Ramsey, of the Boulkon, of the Delaware and Lanckavanna, and Samuel Spencer, of the Southern, are viewed.
